This initiative is supported by the NRRP Agritech project - National Center for Agricultural Technologies.

29th February, 2024 | IS INNOVATION A SOLUTION FOR THE PERMANENCE OF AGRICULTURE IN MOUNTAIN AREAS?

The viewpoint of livestock farmers of the valleys of Lombardy Which factors favor the permanence of agricultural activities in the mountains? Can innovation help farms to continue their activities? The Agritech research project investigates which type of innovation can support mountain livestock farms, improving their profitability and the living and working conditions of farmers. For this purpose, both experts in mountain breeding, and breeders from the main Lombardy valleys, were interviewed and involved in targeted discussion groups. Initial results reveal a complex and sometimes unexpected picture of the challenges of livestock farming in mountain areas, between passion, obstacles and new opportunities and perspectives.
